"FIVE HUNDRED CLUB" FOR THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Proved popular in last Drive And Expected To Be So This Campaign

DR. HETRICK TO BE IN CHARGE

John D. Berryman, chairman of the Charleroi district of the Victory Liberty loan committee, announced this morning that the "Five Hundred Club," which proved to be such a popular feature of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, will also be incorporated in the present "drive." Dr. B. D. Hetrick has been chosen chairman of this committee and will get his workers together after a conference with Mr. Berryman on the plan of campaign.

As in the former campaign any man or woman, or any organization which subscribes $500 is entitled to a membership in this campaign; if a family subscribes $1,000 it will be entitled to two memberships. The same thing will hold good with organizations which subscribe the same amount to this club. During the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign quite a number of our citizens joined this Club and it is the hope and expectation of Mr. Berryman and Dr. Hetrick that they will also want to join the final "Five Hundred Club" in the last bond campaign to be launched by the government.

The construction department of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company was the first to report 100 per cent to Chairman Berryman and received their honor flag on Tuesday. This means that every employe in this department at the glass works has subscribed for Victory Bonds which entitles them to stand at the head of the list so far as the honor roll of Charleroi is concerned. Other departments in this factory are working to this same end and hope to make a favorable report within a short time

Reports from Donora this morning indicate that the big steel town is rapidly absorbing this Victory loan. Not only the mill men but the citizens of the town are taking their full share, and their only fear, as expressed by one of their bankers, being that they will not be able to get enough bondss.

The figures which appeared in the Mail yesterday were those reported by banks throughout the district and county. By the first of the week these figures will be largely exceeded, when it is expected to be shown that the county is well to the front on its subscriptions.

FAREWELL TO THE WOODHALL FAMILY

The First Presbyterian church was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last evening, when about sixty ladies assembled, guests of the Ladies' Aid Society, in honor of the Woodhall family, who will soon leave Charleroi for their new home in Uniontown.

The lecture room was tastefully decorated and presented a homelike appearance. While busy fingers plied the fancy work, busier tongues vied with each other in expressions of regard and deepest regrets for the friends whose places in the church will be hard to fill.

The Woodhall family are among the pioneers of Charleroi. It is now nearly twenty-eight years since they first made their home here. They have seen the town grow from a mudhole, so to speak, to its present prominence. In church matters, the individual members of the family have been extremely active; but their loss will be most keenly felt in the Sunday School room, where for many years they have served most efficiently as teachers. The best wishes of a large coterie of friends will go with them to their new home.

During the evening, Mrs. Kellar, on behalf of the ladies, presented Mrs. Woodhall with a case of silver spoons The recipient who was taken completely by surprise, expressed her thanks in a few well chosen words. Light refreshments were served and a delightful time was spent, notwithstanding the fact that it was a farewell meeting to friends who have been so faithful and for so many years, in church and in social circles

WHEN THE SOLDIER RETURNS TO CIVIL LIFE

The return of soldiers to Civil Life has created a wide spread demand for correct jewelry for men, and because men wear so little jewelry it is generally selected with care and discrimination. Such quality jewelry you will find here in large varieties of styles: Cufflinks, Stick Pins, Waldemar chains Rings, Watches, Penknives, Gold Pencils, Charms, Cigarette Cases, Leather Walletts. These will be very welcome gifts to give your Soldier Boy. H. Porter, Jeweler, Registered Optometrist. See Porter and see Right. We fit the face as well as the eyes. IN SELF DEFENSE

Uncle Sam entered the world war in self defense. In defense of his honor, his rights upon the high seas, his self respect and his ideals of justice.

And he made it clear to the world at large that all these must be respected.

Now it is up to every loyal hearted American in the land to help him clean up the job in self defense.

Not only in defense, once more, of his honor, but in defense of our own private interests and welfare.

Right now the big thing at stake is the public welfare.

This concerns you, it concerns me; it concerns every American intimately.

Business in general isn't what it should be. It is doubtful and hesitant. It isn't plunging ahead in the usual American fashion. It is slowing down, becoming conservative. Takng no chances. Playing safe.

For no one knows just exactly what is ahead.

The cancellation of the munitions contracts left hundreds of big factories virtually without orders. Factories that had switched almost entirely to government work. And put thousands of men out of their jobs.

Gradually conditions are improving. These plants are settling down to the usual order of production. But many of them are not employing nearly so many men as they used to, nor paying such high wages. And many men are idle.

One of the uses to which much of the proceeds from the Victory-Liberty Loan will be applied will be the revitalzing of industry. The settling of outstanding claims from cancelled munitions contracts.

Industry needs this money. nearly $3,000,000,000 in all, more today than in years. It must have it in order to get firmly back upon its feet. And until this is done present conditions will not be greatly improved.

And with more than a million soldiers coming back from France jobs will be at a premium.

We simply must help Uncle Sam and industry in supplying more jobs.

Not only in his defense, the country's defense, but our own.

We must put this loan over the top big.

TO GIVE ORATORIO "THE HOLY CITY"

The oratorio, "The Holy City," by Gaul, will be sung in the First Presbyterian church of Monongahela City Friday evening, May 2nd, by a chorus from the several church choirs of that city, assisted by soloists from Pittsburg. The recital is being given under the auspices of the choir of the First Presbyterian church of that city, and will be directed by Prof. Reese R. Reese. Rehearsals have been under way for a number of weeks, and the offering is expected to be one of the musical events of the season in our neighboring city.

Harold Browneller, a former assistant of Lawrence B. Frye, undertaker, is managing the former Reppert undertaking rooms in Belle Vernon, which his father, F. J. Browneller purchased a few days ago.

DONORA MILLS MAY BREAK THEIR RECORD

The Donora mills promise to reach their quota for the Victory Liberty loan within a very short time, as is indicated by the subscriptions received at the wire mill up to Thursday evening. At that time there had been a total of $300,000 in bonds sold at this one mill, with the blast furnaces the open hearth and the zinc plant to make their reports. It is believed the total sales of the Victory loan in these mills will largely exceed those of the Fourth Liberty loan, which was considered a record breaker

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS ARE ASKED FOR MONONGAHELA RIVER

Additional Lock Chamber At No. 4 Is Among The Suggestions

NEW LOCKS FOR UPPER RIVER

Coal operators are requesting further improvements for the Monongahela river. The big deposits of coal in the upper reaches of the river which are available for river shipment will be needed for industrial purposes in the Pittsburg district. It is estimated there are more than 64,000,000,000 bushels of coal available for shipment by river. Improvements which had been demanded as a war measure by Col. Stickle and his assistants, were disregared until operators appealed to Congress for relief.

Two meetings were held this week under direction of Col. Stickle to pass upon these proposed improvements, one at Morgantown and one at Pittsburg. Both sessions were well attended and were a success. It was found to be the sentiment of those interest that the improvements desired were badly needed and that if the immense deposits of coal were to be shipped by river improvements must be made and those at once.

The following improvements were demanded: New chamber at lock No. 6 to replace the present one new standard locks at No. 7, No. 8 and No. 9; an extra lock chamber in addition to the present two at lock No. 4, making three at this point; concrete tops on dams Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5; extension of guide walls to 1,000 feet the upper outside guard wall to a length of 500 feet and the middle wall to a length of 75 feet; valves to be placed in all gates to facilitate the filling and emptying of the lock chambers; extra gate recesses to be filled with concrete, which would give the lock walls a smoother surface; lengthening of the walls on all locks from No. 1 up to and including No. 6. at Rices Landing. It was also advocated that several lock chambers be built each having a length of 720 feet. These improvements it is estimated would cost $2,500,000 and that they could be completed within two years.

WILL ENTERTAIN THE FIFTEENTH

The Pittsburg Branch of the American Engineering Society, in connection with a committee from the Mothers of the Fifteenth Engineers, is arranging to entertain the members of the Fifteenth Engineers at the William Penn after they have been mustered out of service. The Engineering Society invited a committee from the Mothers of the Fifteenth to meet with them Wednesday evening at their headquarters, 13th floor of the Fulton building, Pittsburg at which time some of the details of the prposed entertainment were discussed. It will likely take the form of a banquet and ball, and the date selected will likely be the latter part of May, probably the 27th.

Mrs. John O'Neil of Charleroi was a member of the Mothers' committee and took part in the conference. She has been requested by Capt. McCormick a leading member of the Engineering Society to furnish him with a list of all the Charleroi boys who are members of the regiment, together with their occupation before the war. If any of these men should be so unfortunate as to lose out when they apply for their old jobs, it is the purpose of the Engineering Society to look after their interests and assist them in securing good positions.

The entertainment for the boys of the Fifteenth will be separate and apart from all other courtesies that may be extended to these soldiers, and will be elaborate in every respect.

BIG SIGN WAS PUT UP BY CHARLEROI MAN

The big sign on river hill opposite Charleroi, which is 800 feet long and 20 feet high, was erected by T. L. Dainty. He is the inventir of this new style sign and if it proves to be a success it is likely that another one will be placed on this side of the river opposite Monessen.

There are fortunes in tips, but they do not always pile up as rapidly as desired. A concessionaire is suing the proprietor of a popular wayside inn because of his failure to make $7,500 a year out of a hat-checking privilege for which he paid $2,500 yearly.

THE PRIVATE SOLDIER

There are doubtless many who consider that a distinction bestowed upon a general is a sufficient recognition of the value of the army. With this we disagree, says the Chicago Tribune.

We have protested against the distribution of knightly honors among American generals, not that American generals are not deserving of the highest credit, but because in their rank lies the recognition, not in the largess of kings.

We perceive in the recognition of the American private soldiers by the French a praise that is deserving of our commendation. The French do not forget that it is the soldier of the line, of the trenches, of the assault, the soldier living in muck, and amongst cooties, taking pot luck day after day—the French do not forget that this is the man to be marked up for recognition.

We applaud the French for their citations of American units, for therein lies the principles of the republic, the recognition of the common man, just prase for all those united in a common action and not surprising dignities for those who already are dignified by leadership.

Much of Caesar's greatness lay in that he gave credit for victories to his legions. Many a Roman general is forgotten; the legions will be remembered as long as there is history of war. Napoleon's old guard will live when his generals are no longer named. Valley Forge is famed for the soldiers who suffered there; the Grand Army of the Republic outlasts all but two or three of its leaders.

Generals are conspicuous and famed according as they use their generalship. They need no other decoration than the eyes of the citizens upon them. Let us give our marks of valor to those who fought in the ranks. The nation will never be any greater than its buck privates.

A GREAT DOCUMENT

The Republican Publicity Association has done something useful. Americans and citizens generally in issuing an illuminated copy of what is not ineptly called the "Second Declaration of Independence." The facts and signatures of the thirty-nine Senators who on March 3rd pledged themselves not to vote to ratify the Wilson covenant in the form then proposed ought to be familiar to every voter, indeed to every child studying history.

In the forty-five days since the so-called round robin was signed the Senators who pledged themselves to oppose anti-American policies in the relations of the United States with the rest of the world have been subjected to gross abuse, some from men who have never read the Wilson covenant, some from men who were content to lie about it. Meanwhile victory has rested with the courageous thirty-nine. Every change affecting America that has been made in the constitution of the League of Nations since the President took his outlandish draft back to Paris has been the result of the distrust and disgust of the American people. This intense feeling was so strongly expressed in the pledge of the Senators that Mr. Wilson has realized the hopelessness of the delusion which possessed him on his last visit here—that he could deprive the Senate of its constitutional prerogative.

The pledge stands as it was made But the covenant—N. Y. Sun.

THE REVISED COVENANT

There are as yet only summaries of the revised [illegible] of the League of Nations, and naturally there is a disposition to await publication of the document in full before forming fully definite opinions, but the summaries promise that the revised covenant will be more generally accepted than were the original tentative proposals. For one thing, the Monroe doctrine has been clearly written in and its integrity maintained. It is further more distinctly stated that responsibilities of guardianship under the "mandatory" arrangements will depend on the willingness of the guardian nations to accept the burden. The United States, if asked to overlook the affairs of Armenia for example, will do so or not do so as Congress may decide. The right of withdrawal from the League at will is also more definitely stated, and there are other minor revisions that were considered desirable.

Theaters

Marguerite Clark is more delightful than ever in her latest captivating comedy-drama, "Let's Elope," which will be the attraction of first importance at the New Million Dollar Grand all next week starting Monday morning, April 28. A daring unconventional story, having almost the flavor of French farce, is presented. It's author was Fred Jackson, Pittsburger, his play of the speaking stage, "The Naughty Wife," having been used as the foundation for the photoplay. Winsome little Marguerite goes dashing through the picture with a charm that enraptures.

"Let's Elope" is a picture filled with "pep." It starts out in an unusual manner and from the opening scene until the lights die down on the closing incident there is fast moving activity.

The Davis Theatre program for the forthcoming week, beginning Monday afternoon, April 28, and at two performances a day, will consist of nine Keith vaudeville acts, gathered from the four corners of the earth. In this roster there will be specimens of every variety, a little bit of everything in theatrical art, which in the composite comprise the ideal variety performance. As a special attraction the management announces the first performances here of the United States Navy Jazz Band organization consisting of twenty-five formerly enlisted blue jackets who but recently returned from overseas duty.
